Hat and whip 1981-89

From the 1980s movie Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade
Harrison Ford wore this whip and fedora hat in his role as Indiana Jones. Filmmaker George Lucas created the globe-trekking archeologist to pay homage to classic Hollywood adventure films. Jones is a reluctant hero seeking to preserve cultural heritage. The Indiana Jones series, directed by Steven Spielberg, is among the most successful movie franchises in American history.

Indiana Jones's costume, including a fedora, leather jacket, and whip, became an icon of the cinematic hero, and was reimagined in graphics on consumer goods like this lunchbox.

Natural History Museum

- ▶ Dinosaur bones
- ▶ Gems and Jewelry
 - ▶ Hope Diamond
- ▶ Under the Sea
- ▶ Rocks and Minerals
- ▶ Butterflies
- ▶ Nature around the world

Washington Monument

- ▶ Half way through construction the Civil War broke out so work was stopped
- ▶ Work resumed again but the stone did not match the original so you can see the place where it changes

International Spy Museum

Frequently Asked Questions

What are my options for paying for a tour?

There are three options for paying for your tour: AutoPay Payment Plan, Payment in Full Plan, and Manual Payment Plan. Payments can be made by Visa, MasterCard, Discover, American Express, money order or personal checks.

What is not included in the tour costs?

Airline baggage fees and RGP are not included in tour costs. For international tours, Travel Guard medical insurance is not included but can be purchased for an additional cost.

If I sign up for RGP and need to cancel, how and when will my refund be received?

You will receive your payment within six weeks of your cancellation if you paid through our online portal. Refunds will be issued in the same manner with which payments are received. If you did not pay through the portal but rather paid your school, please reach out to your group leader for more information regarding cancellations and refunds.

If there is an emergency and I need to speak with my child, how can I contact them?

You will be able to contact your child on their cell phone or your group leader's cell phone. If you are unable to reach either of these contacts, call Brightspark Travel's 24-hour hotline at 800-962-0060.
